

Need some direction?

Apply for our mentoring programme in Oslo and let us guide you.

The most important task of a mentor is to guide you and help you reflect on your aspirations and dreams in order for you to decide what would be right for you. At QVARTZ, we want to help promising students make well-informed decisions regarding which career goals to pursue and how to achieve them - whether in management consulting or elsewhere.

As part of our mentoring programme, you will get a personal mentor who will support, challenge and help you discover your inner passions and figure out how to combine these with your unique talents in a way that is meaningful to you. The programme consists of one-to-one sessions with your QVARTZ mentor as well as social events for all mentors and mentees.

Anyone enrolled in university can apply for the mentoring programme. The programme will be kicked off on November 1. Submit your application at quartz.com/career/events no later than October 5. Please include your CV, grade transcripts (bachelor and master) and a cover letter emphasising your motivation for getting a mentor.

If you have any questions, please contact Mia Arnet at mia.arnet@quartz.com.
