

Make your internship count

Are you a student looking to find out whether management consulting is the right career path for you? Look no further. As an intern at Bain, you'll get an exclusive peek into tier-one management consulting while you work on real projects for some of the most intriguing companies in the Nordics. Right now, we're looking for enthusiastic students to join us in Oslo.

As an Associate Consultant Intern, you'll tackle complex business challenges and strengthen your analytical toolbox, all while learning from some of the brightest minds and kindest people in the industry. During your stay, a mentor and a team of colleagues will support and help you to thrive and develop, regardless of where you want to go next.

NO TWO DAYS ARE THE SAME

For 6-10 exciting and intensive weeks, you'll be in the thick of it: working shoulder to shoulder with full-time consultants. Your tasks will cover everything from providing clients with powerful facts and analyses to identifying information sources, gathering and interpreting data, interviewing the client's customers, competitors, suppliers and employers and much more.

WHAT DO YOU BRING TO THE TABLE?

If you're a curious and ambitious third-year bachelor's student or a first-year master's student, we'd love to hear from you. To be eligible for the position, we'd like you to have:

- strong academic records
- a creative and analytical mindset
- a solid team player attitude with excellent people and communication skills
- a high level of drive and the ability to thrive in an entrepreneurial environment
- full proficiency in English (no local language requirement)
